

Question 1

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Flag question

Drag and Drop the correct options:

- ✓ returns true is zero is a legal number otherwise returns false.
- ✓ converts the Boolean object "obj" into String object.
- ✓ function computes a new String in which certain characters from the given string have been replaced by hexadecimal values.
- ✓ function makes the respective URI as portable, so that it can be used across any network to any computers.
- ✓ function returns true if the input given is a legal finite number, otherwise returns false.
- ✓ function converts the string object "obj" to an integer value.

Question 2

Correct

Mark 6.00 out of 6.00

Flag question

Choose the correct options:

- JavaScript : ✓
- VBScript : ✓
- ASP : ✓
- Perl-CGI : ✓
- Python : ✓
- PHP : ✓

Question 3

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Flag question

Match the following:

- Find any of the alternatives specified. x or y ✓
- Find any one character between the brackets ✓
- It matches any decimal digit not from 0 through 9 ✓
- The Web page currently shown in the browser window ✓
- It matches any character from lowercase a through uppercase Z ✓

Question 4

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Flag question

Rearrange the JavaScript code for storing and displaying the contents of two arrays.

✓ `<script type="text/javascript">`

✓ `var n1=new Array(5);
var n2=new Array();`

✓ `for(var i=0;i<n1.length;i++)`

✓ `n1[i]=i;
for(var i=0;i<n1.length;i++)`

✓ `n2[i]=1;
displayArray(n1);`

✓ `displayArray(n2);
function displayArray(array){`

✓ `for(var i=0;i<array.length;i++)`

✓ `document.writeln(array[i]+" ");
}
</script>`

Question 5

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Flag question

Re-arrange the JavaScript code for checking whether a number is positive or negative or zero.

✓ `<script type="text/javascript">
var no = 0;`

✓ `if(no==0) {`

✓ `document.write("The number is zero");
}`

✓ `else if(no>0) {`

✓ `document.write("The number is positive");
}
else {`

✓ `document.write("The number is negative");
}
</script>`